Important Auction Sale of Estancia Remedios.

Mr. THOMAS GOWLAND will Sell by Public Auction, without fail, on THURSDAY, 10th December, at twelve o'clock precisely, said well-known Estancia, situated on the River Matanza, about six leagues from the City.

The ground consists of nearly two square leagues, all fenced in with wire and ditch, and is divided into six lots, each having brick houses and other accessories.

Plans of the Estancia can be had at the Auctioneer's, Calle Defensa No. 114, also inventories explaining each lot, its superficie, buildings, galpones, corrales, quinta, trees, fences and ditches, alfalfares, &c.

Such a brilliant opportunity seldom occurs for a good investment. The proximity of the estancia to the City and its situation on a permanent river give it a value which must augment with the increasing prosperity of the country.

THE ZARATE RAILWAY.

The latest novelty is the Zarate Railway.

We do not know rightly what to say about this projected line, as we believe that any man who says a word against railways in Buenos Ayres should be popped down 'the hole in the Mole;' but we certainly read with no slight astonishment the news that Zarate is about to have a railway. The proposed line is to start from a little river village boasting about 8 inhabitants with a trade and commerce which is at present so insignificant that nobody knows anything about it, and we doubt if it would give employment to an active clerk. From this retired spot the line is to take its course westward to a place called Giles, which is in a straight line to nowhere. The town of Giles is doing such a tremendous business that the people of the town have not time even to cut down the grass which is growing most luxuriously in the streets. From thence the projected railway is to run due north to Carmen de Areco, a town better known as the head-quarters of the celebrated Lamela in bye-gone days than as the emporium of agricultural wealth. The road then strikes north north-east, making for Salto, which is a thriving place.

Thus the projected line will make two sides of a triangle, and terminate in the river Parana.

We are at a loss to discover who are the projectors of this road, for, although the land through which it is intended it should run is as fertile as the imagination of the embryo concessionaire, still we are blind to the importance of connecting Salto with Zarate.

There are so many good trunk lines required in this country that we think branches should not be thought of yet. If the object is to supply the people of Giles, Fortin, and Salto with fresh fish from the Parana every morning for breakfast, it can be obtained as easily and with much less expense by the fish proprietors purchasing one of the much-abused tract on engines.

We cannot, with the map of the province before us, imagine what trade or commerce can possibly exist between Zarate and Salto to justify such an outlay of capital as is required to build a railway in this country.

If Zarate does want a railway, we should certainly say that an extension of the Northern Railway to that go ahead place would meet its requirements. If Giles, the Fortin, and Salto require steam, we insist that they should be connected with the Villa Luxan, and not such an out of the way place as Zarate.

How it could enter into the brains of any man to run a sort of triangular road through the country terminating at one of our most retired little river towns, we certainly cannot imagine, save we believe that the Zaratenians are seized with a railway fever which was once so common in Europe.

If by any possibility the projector of this new line could widen the mouth of the Palmas, cleanse the Parana of mud, and remove the island which lies in front of the town some few squares out of the way, there might be some possibility of getting up such a line as the one proposed, but as at present situated we must say that the Zarate railway company is one of the most wild-cat schemes ever brought before an intelligent public.

Frightful Accident in Entre Rios

A Mail Coach "Drowned"

Wonderful Escape of Passengers.

The province of Entre Rios has been always regarded as an extraordinary place: there, notwithstanding the genial breeze of Freedom which is wafted from Buenos Ayres. Notwithstanding all the efforts of our politicians and our writers, Entre Rios is the same old six-and eightpence.

Since the lamentable accident to the omnibus in Rathmines last year, we have heard nothing to equal the most inconceivable catastrophe which last week befel the Gualeguay mail coach.

We call attention to the present case, as we perceive an effort being made in England to punish all those who jump on board a ferry boat at the very moment of its departure.

The present lamentable affair occurred in the following manner: the coachman drove his coach down to the pass of the Gualeguay, and called to the ferry-man to come up; the old Entre Riano valsero got his valsa or raft up to the point, the passengers got out to stretch their legs for a moment; the driver whipped his horses, and drove down in a most dashing manner, he had sixteen horses with outriders, a heavily laden coach, full of all sorts of luggage, but as he had crossed and re-crossed this river so often he thought nothing of the danger. "Whether the coach was too fast or the valsa too slow" does not appear, but the very moment the leading horses touched the valsa off she went, and down went mail coach, horses, luggage, outriders, mayoral driver, and in fact everything save the passengers, who were standing on the valsa looking at the whole affair. The river is rather muddy and deep at this pass; the waters closed over the poor coach, but we are happy to say that none of the peons or coachmen lost their lives, being fished up by the valsa people, the horses, however, as a matter of course, were drowned. It is rumoured that there was great deal of money in the coach, which was being sent to —— to pay the public clerks. The mail-coach accident has thrown a gloom over Entre Rios.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

No steamer from Montevideo, no news from Paraguay, no chasques from Paunero, no nothing, in fact, save the most intolerable heat. Buenos Ayres was a dull place yesterday. Newspaper editors are to be pitied in such times. So long as Congress was open we always had something to talk about, no matter how long we were left without news from Montevideo, but now we have no Congress debates to publish, and our police reporter will not be admitted into the Policia.

The plain fact of the matter is, that there is no news of any description to write about, but the city is full of all sorts of rumours.

First, Marmol has stopped the 'Menay' down in Montevideo, and the President, therefore, detains the 'Libertad.' People who want to go to the Oriental capital, can take one of Kean's boats, run over to Colonia, hire horses there, and if their throats are not cut on the road, we suppose they will arrive safely in Montevideo.

The news which we published the other day, respecting the Great Southern Railway, has already had its effect on property. We hear of one property holder, who has sold this week four squares of land near the Lomas of Zamorra in $33,000. This is certainly the highest price we ever knew to be paid for land so far out of town.

We are informed, on the very best authority, that this week over one hundred Irish sheep farmers are moving out towards the frontier. The majority of them go to a place called 25 de Mayo, but there are a great many also going towards Pavon, in every quarter of the country we hear of sheep moving, some from the South to the North: but Southern farmers now, as a general rule, move further South, and Northeners further North and West.

The murderer of Farrell has not been caught, although the two Irishmen who left town for that object have searched every place. It is said that the murderer is now in the Partido of the Fortin de Areco, the very place where he committed the crime.

The races on Sunday were splendid that is to say, the course was well attended, plenty of hampers and carriages and all the good things of life: the only thing wanting to make last Sunday's meeting the best the Argentine company ever had, was—horses; there were no horses, but that did not matter much, people went to amuse themselves, and so, therefore, the object of the affair was gained.

The funeral service for the late Mr. J. McDonnell, of this city, will take place on to morrow, at the Montserrat Church, at ten o'clock, a.m.

We regret to call attention to the news published in another column from Japan. The Mr. Josling who unfortunately fell fighting for his country is brother to Mr. Josling, the well-known broker of this city.

The Ypora arrived yesterday from Paraguay, bringing us a letter from our gossypium brother.

The Gualeguay arrived about noon with a large patch in her side.

About one o'clock, p.m., it was rumoured that the Menay was in sight. The story spread until it reached the Bolsa, where the news caused intense excitement. Some of the most active brokers ran down Calle Merced, to see for themselves. Our reporter states that the roof of the "Capitania" was crowded with patacon brokers, who every now and then were peeping through the glass; at last one of the most clear sighted, far-seeing broker gave it as his opinion that the gentleman sitting on the quarter deck, reading a book, was Marmol. The flag was hoisted, and maté served.

THE STANDARD ABROAD.

SCENERY OF THE PARANA

Times have changed wonderfully since twenty years ago, when the voyage from B. Ayres to Paraguay occupied a whole year. In those days the timid navigators of the Parana crept lazily along the banks, sounding the current at every step, sheltering themselves under the barranca when the least symptoms of bad weather appeared, and never trusting themselves, even under the most experienced pilot, to the perils of navigation by night. Hence the remark of an indigenous lady, that "she supposed the English packet in its trip to Europe always made fast to the trees at night-time." The Italians first introduced a salutary change, making two or three trips annually, and the enterprise of the Paraguay government soon created a fleet of steamers which reduced the voyage to a few days. Still the windings of the river, frequency of sand banks, and force of the current call for the most constant attention, and going "aguas arriba" is rather tedious for those who are not admirers of the beautiful and picturesque.

Tradition says that the first Spanish expedition to Paraguay passed more than twelve months in exploring the long and tortuous course of the Parana, for although the direct distance only 1200 miles, the way is rendered almost double as long by the necessity of crossing and re-crossing from one bank to the other. Certainly the adventurous settlers of the 1 th century were men of surpassing energy, dauntless determination, and untiring perseverance. It is impossible for us to form an idea of the hardships and dangers they must have gone through, penetrating, in these frail barks, to the very center of of the continent, to establish a future metropolis amid the pathless woods and virgin wilds of an unknown country. Such as they then looked upon these cliffs and islands they are to-day, for Nature in her simplest and rudest garb still holds indisputed sway in these silent and melancholy regions. For thousand of ages this mighty river has flowed on to sea, and yet it is exactly the same as when first Creation drowned upon the universe. The arts or science of man are nowhere visible, for hundreds of miles, and the various layers of soil forming the islands only shew that during numberless generations the stream has continued to carry down its deposits, till they have almost imperceptibly risen above the surrounding flood, decked out in all the charms of tropical Nature with trees of various kinds, most of them probably yet unknown to botanists.

A thick jungle of marshy grass and entangled underwood, which almost defies the entrance of man, affords a secure and favourite asylum for tigers, serpents, and alligators, except when the current rises to the tops of the trees, and a broad sheet of water stretches from either mainland to the opposite side. Then may be seen the tigers swimming across, with powerful strokes, perfectly heedless of and unmoved by the rapid whirlpools. In many places the casual grouping of foliage, broken here and there by lovely rivulets which tempt you to follow their mysterious recesses, presents a picture such as Salvator Rosa or Claude Lorrain never saw even in fancy. It is a pity to think that these islands are never to be turned to any purpose or defended against the torrent, for the soil is so loose that it will hold no structure. The river has in some places retreated considerably; there are persons still living in Rosario who remember when it washed the foot of the barranca; and the custom-house built on the strand fell down, a short time since, for the reason above stated. The bed of the stream has also changed often, and some towns erected on its banks are now almost inaccessible, so many islands intervene.

Leaving La Paz we have the same general features already described. For some distance the river spreads out to an amazing width, the coast being on each side very low, and lined with timber. It partly reminded me of the Saone (between Chalons and Lyons), which I once descended during a heavy flood. I pictured to myself what American genius and enterprise would have made of this splendid watercourse, far surpassing the Mississippi in grandeur of expanse. I foresaw visions of vessels laden with snowy cotton, and bearing the fruits of Argentine industry to the marts of the world's commerce; instead of idly wasting the great resources placed by Providence at our disposal. What a glorious future of wealth, national greatness, and a position among civilised nations, if I could only make the lazy people believe me that labour signifies prosperity. I felt the zeal of a Francis Xavier, in going forth to convert the denizens of these wilds to a dogma as important in the industrial world, as the Gospel was to Christianity. The Jesuits conquered not the savage Missions with spear and arquebuss, but with the emblems of religion. I came not as a political adventurer to traffic on men's credulity, but as a diplomatist of cotton, with pamphlets for my credentials, and some bags of seed for ammunition.

About 25 leagues above La Paz, we came to the mouth of the Arroyo Espinillo, which is the frontier line between Entre Rios and Corrientes. On Capt. Page's map, it is marked Sarandi, or Guayquiraro, which falls into the former: it is not navigable. Here we met some schooners of 15 tons, laden with hides and tobacco, the latter forming the upper part of the cargo, or what the sailors term 'troja.' It is not clear whether they are coming from Paraguay or Corrientes: one is named 'Magdalena.'

Again, there is a number of these delightful islands, revelling in all the beauty of tropical vegetation, with palmetto trees, and a plant bearing golden leaves, easily mistaken for oranges; as we glide between the banks of these embowered gardens, washed by the limpid fluid, I think of Moore's celebrated song—

'Oh! had we some bright little isle of our own'

Or of the equally charming verse of the same Irish bard—

> And when in other climes we meet,
> Some isle or vale enchanting,
> Where all looks flowery, wild, and sweet,
> And nought but love is wanting.

Verily, St. Anthony would have exchanged Egypt for this lovely spot of retirement, so suited for a hermitage (provided it was low water.) But what do I see? Lo! on the margin of the Gran Chacho, in yonder island, are two huts of palm leaves, scarce large enough to hold a man at full length. It is the abode of some daring wood cutters, undeterred by the tigers, which swarm hereabout, or the distance from any trace of human life. Higher up is the little skiff pushing along under the trees, for the heat is excessive, at least 90 in the shade. There are three men, two of whom are evidently Creoles: the other, I thought, wore a Crimean shirt, but it is his tawny skin, for he is a tame Indian. The savages of the Chacho never come down here, as they have plenty of means to pursue their occupations of hunting, fishing, or wood-cutting on the mainland.

Every few minutes we cross the river, which is here about a mile wide, and very shallow. The coast of Corrientes is low, but well-wooded, and yonder is a little hut, elevated on poles, and with a tile-roof, which answers as the Capitania del Puerto for Esquina, this town being half a league distant, on the mainland. Some passengers are waiting for us, and with a tremendous whistle, the captain gives the signal 'stop her.'

NEW PATENT

We understand that application has been made to what is called the Superior Government, for the right of patent or privilege for a new steam invention, which is as yet unknown in Europe.

We like to see ourselves going ahead, and show the people in Europe that we are not destitute of Newtons. Besides, it is a pleasure to think that we can outdo the Yankees in the item of inventions.

Steam has been applied to so many purposes, that no doubt our readers will find it difficult to imagine the peculiar nature of this Argentine invention; but we may safely assert, that the new steam machine which we refer to is utterly unknown in Europe.

Thanks to the mechanical genius of some gifted man, we are able now to turn off 'escribanos' by the dozen. Last week we knocked off one, this week another, and if the weather holds good, next week we shall turn out another.

The Armstrong gun manufactory is beaten hollow by this new invention, which in a less space of time fabricates an article of infinitely more mechanism, and calculated to do ten times more injury than the best Armstrong gun ever constructed.

LIEUTENANT COLLIS.

President Mitre has been pleased to appoint Mr. James Collis of the city of Dublin, who arrived here recently as mate of the Raymond, Lieutenant on board one of the national war vessels at anchor at Martin Garcia.

We salute the new navy officer, and point to him the name and character of his illustrious fellow countryman Admiral Browne. Mr. Collis, although never before in the navy, has for seven years been master of a steamer in the Liverpool trade, and eighteen years Captain in the merchant service. We doubt not that he will prove himself worthy of the rank conferred on him, and maintain the character of navy Irishmen so revered in the River Plate.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The following is a list of the men to be elected on last Sunday at the municipal elections held in the various parishes. The returns for the parish of Concepcion we understand being regarded as fraudulent, will be quashed. Only seven parishes it seems have sent in returns; owing to the rows, &c., in the others, no voting could take place.

Catedral al Sud—Ascuenaga and Molina; Serna, suplente.

San Miguel—M. Rocha.

Balvanera—P. Natta; J. Ruiz, suplente.

Monserrat—Luis Obligado.

San Nicolas—Luis Elordi, and suplente, the Rev. Mr. O'Gorman.

THE KIRBY MURDER.

Villa Mercedes, Nov. 30 1863.

In fulfilment of a self imposed duty, I feel it incumbent on me to state, for the information of those who subscribed to reward the courageous Chaves, captor of the murderer of Kirby and Devere, and especially those living outside this partido, that the prisoner has been sent to Buenos Ayres, condemned, and sentenced to undergo the severest penalty of the law. There can be nothing said in extenuation of his crime, as he would have butchered the remaining members of the family (women), but that they escaped the fiend by flight, to tell the sad tale, and are now the only living witnesses of the catastrophe. It is to be hoped they will soon be avenged, and our exertions to this end crowned with success, as an example to those who think they can kill foreigners with impunity. Those who subscribed unsolicited in Areco deserve our thanks and best wishes that they may never require our assistance on a similar occasion. I believe your agent here is the treasurer for the fund you mention: I will call his attention to the matter.

In conclusion, I may state that quite lately the Juez del Crimen authorised me to acquaint the Widow Kirby that the watch and other articles belonging to the late Mr. Kirby are at her disposal: I did so. I will add that on the same authority I have made the above statement. The case passes now out of our jurisdiction; we hope for a speedy termination to it in B. Ayres. One remark more: in any and all cases connected with this, I recommend moderation and firmness, as the gravity of the case requires.

ESTANCIERO.

BARRADERO

As will be seen, by the following figures, this is one of the most flourishing 'partidos' in the country; it is also the largest. Some of the wealthiest sheep farmers in the province reside in this partido. Every league, every square of land, is turned to advantage, but many of our readers may not know the extent of its agricultural productions, we translate the following from one of our native colleagues—

Table of the grain and other crops of this partido, during the present year, which information has been taken by directions from the Municipality—

Sown—Potatoes—19,848 ar; peas 110 ar.; maize, 26 fanegas; wheat, 59 fanegas; barley, 16 do.

Yield of crop 11,800 ar.; potatoes, 2454 ar.; peas, 534 fanegas; maize, 2801 fanegas; wheat, 1124 fanegas barley.

If all our other partidos could only boast of as much agricultural produce as Barradero, what a difference would there not be in this country! and yet there is only a small Swiss colony in that partido.

GLANCE AT THE PROVINCES

The province of Mendoza has entered apparently into a more auspicious epoch, its having elected a young man, señor Gonzalez, as governor, who bears an excellent character.

The outrages committed by two foolish officers of the federal army, and which we noticed in our last review will no doubt be punished as they deserve to be.

The province of Cordoba has also undergone a change for the better. Mr. O'Campo found that he was entirely incapable of ruling the disorderly elements of party in that city, and has prudently resigned. His successor, Sor Ferreyra has at all events, one circumstance in his favor; he is the only man who for 10 years, being governor, served out his entire term, and quietly delivered up his office. Five other governors within that period either had to resign, or were kicked out by the amiable people of Cordoba, who however showed something more of humanity than their countrymen of S. Juan, as we have said, got rid of their governors by the more easy method of cutting their throats.

It is with great satisfaction then, that we hail the establishment of something like harmony the magnificent province of Cordoba, which is to be destined to be the first stopping place for the Great Central Railroad, which will undoubtedly put a final stop to the brawls of unboarded Doctors of Law and unprincipled politicians.

The province of Catamarca is still the scene of the arbitrary measures of a petty minority supported by the armed forces of a neighboring province. Catamarca has, to all intents and purposes, ceased being a sovereign state, and has become the plaything of a few unpricipled and ambitious men.

Santiago, under the patriarchal but iron rule of the Taboadas, is in much more happy condition, for there the people have never known what liberty means, and are blissful in their ignorance no doubt. But the eighty thousand Catamarqueños have always been numbered amongst the most civilised people of this country, and they consequently feel more acutely their present degraded state.

The Indians have again invaded the province of San Luis. The frontiers are in a wretched state, while there are two regiments of the line stationed in the towns of Rosario and Santa Fe to amuse the people with opera pieces from their bands, and to debauch all the servant maids in the place.

The writer has just returned from a trip to the flourishing colonies near Sta. Fe. There are now nearly six hundred families comfortably settled in their very valuable concessions. Eighty new brick houses have been built by the Colonists within the last year, who have eight hundred fanegas of wheat sown, equivalent to four thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine bushels. The crops are in a splendid condition, particularly the crops of wheat, which will give on a very moderate calculation, at near twenty-five to one, which will make the crop amount to one hundred and twenty five thousand bushels.

In the colony of San Carlos the average will be at least thirty to one.

There are large quantities of barley and corn sown all of which looks very well.

When we consider that only five, six and seven years have elapsed since these colonists arrived from Europe without a copper in their pockets, in debt for their passage, and woefully ignorant even of the use of a plough, we must give our quota of admiration to the great advantages which await a tide of emigration to the shores of the Parana.

There is scarcely a family in the three colonies but that we found in a comfortable situation and full of hope for the future.

During the year 1864 and 1865, the province of Santa Fe will receive an accession of between four or five thousand families of immigrants. The most important amongst these will be about two thousand families from Brazil. These are generally swiss colonists, who are dissatisfied with Brazil, and intend to remove to this province. They have all money, and are industrious and intelligent. Some ten families have already arrived as pioneers, and have bought rich lands near the town of Santa Fe.

Entre Rios as well as this province is quiet. Commerce is improving and with the removal of the Chacho from the scene we may hope to see the country quiet; and we are only awaiting the arrival of Mr. Wheelwright to enter at once into a new era of prosperity, and activity.—Ferro-carril.

JAPAN.

Shanghai, Sept. 4.—News has been received here of the arrival of Admiral Kuper with the fleet at Kagosima. Negotiations failing, the Admiral besieged and levelled the city, and fired Prince Satsuma's three steamers. The fleet then returned to Yokohama. Captain Josling and Commander Wiltrot were killed in the engagement.

The following telegram, dated Cairo, October 19, 3.40 p.m., has been received from her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General in Egypt:—

"JAPAN NEWS BY MOOLTAN.

"Saturday, Aug. 15.—All hope of negotiations being at an end, the fleet took up a position opposite Kagosima, and prepared for action. Two shore batteries opened fire on the fleet, which returned it. By dusk the town was in flames in several places. Three forts were silenced. Our loss was 11 killed and 39 wounded. Captain Josling, of the Euryalis, and Commander Wilmott, were killed by some shot.

"Nine p.m.—The whole town is in flames.

"Sunday, Aug. 16.—The fleet stood out, engaging the whole of the batteries. The city is one mass of ruins. The palace, the factories, the arsenal, &c., are destroyed. Three steamers belonging to Prince Satsuma were destroyed completely. The shore batteries are reported as having been well served."

The 'Times of India,' of the 30th of September, contains the following telegram regarding the hostilities with Japan:—

"Galle, Sept. 28.—The British fleet, which, as already mentioned, had sailed from Yokohama for the purpose of attacking Prince Satsuma's fortification, reached its destiny on the 12th August. The town or city, which is of vast extent, and estimated to contain 180,000 inhabitants, was found to be protected along its entire front by some twelve batteries, excellently mounted. Finding no disposition whatever on the part of the Japanese to avert hostilities, or at all to be reconciliated, the city was bombarded by Admiral Kuper, and our fleet is said to have suffered to the extent of 13 killed and 50 wounded. The fleet has returned from (to?) Yokohama. From Pekin and the northern ports there is no news of importance."

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

Medina's Defeat Contradicted.

Flores had given Medina the slip, and is now at Barrancas de Santa Lucia, twenty leagues from Montevideo. It is also reported he was still closer, at Paso de la Cadena. Medina is eight leagues behind. K.

The Menay arrived yesterday afternoon. Our private correspondent writes at the very last hour, and says nothing whatsoever about the rumoured defeat of Servando Gomez, Medina, and Lamas. All three are said by the colorados here to have been knocked into a 'cocked hat,' Gomez killed and Lamas made prisoner. We cannot, as our correspondent does not mention it, pay any attention to these rumours. The 'Reforma' of the 2 th gives the following particulars:—

"LATEST FROM THE CAMP.

"Commander Barrios, of Canelones, advises that Flores having divided his troops, Aparicio pushed forward to take the pass of Los slas, where Flores, it was said, was making for, with the main body of his men, who therefore returned and came foul of Medina's army, where a fight ensued and Flores routed. Medina continues without stopping, and, it is said, is in such hot speed after Flores that he has not time to write to the Government until he finishes the rebels."

In the "Reforma" of the 29th we do not see anything about this.

The Chile, we read in the 'Telegrafo Maritimo,' sailed from Liverpool on the 15th, but was obliged to put back on the 0th, to repair her machinery.

IMPORTANT.

THE VERY LATEST.

In spite of whatever news you may receive from others, I can assure you that a chasque arrived at half-past three p. m, Monday, from Medina, at Casupa (30 leagues from Montevideo) stating that he was always after Flores, and that this tapo did not wait for him to fight it out. I have seen a letter from one of our Ministers that says the above.

Guaranteed.

LATEST FROM PARAGUAY

The 'Ypora' arrived yesterday, bringing us dates from Paraguay to the 21st ult.

In Paraguay the cotton crop is in a sound, healthy condition.

President Lopez is in good health.

The number of Englishmen in Asuncion is greatly increasing.

The 'Igurey' is aground not far from Paraguay; her mails and passengers have been brought down by the 'Ypora.'

The River Paraguay has recently fallen so much, that it is with difficulty any vessels can get up to Asuncion. The port of Bahia Negra is so dry, that people walk across Tobacco was in good demand, at 37 rls.

FOREIGN SUMMARY.

When the quarterly accounts of the London and Middlesex Bank were made up on the st instant a deficiency of about £13 900 was discovered. Further investigations showed, it is said, that the deficit was caused by irregularities on part of the cashier, who had permitted certain customers to overdraw their accounts. By prompt action on the part of the directors about £8 000 has been recovered, and it was reported last evening that the London and Westminster Bank had taken over the business of the London and Middlesex establishment, with the remainder of the liabilities.

The total number of deaths by the late colliery explosion in South Wales is thirty-eight. Twenty-six were husbands and fathers.

A meeting of the parishioners of Wellesey, convened by the local board, was held last evening, to consider the expediency of applying to Parliament for additional powers to borrow £ 0,000 for erecting a new landing-stage or pier at New Brighton; improving Egremont and Seacombe ferries; and constructing two new ferry steamers. The proposition was negativated by a large majority, but a poll was demanded.

In consequence of the heavy rains which have fallen in France during the past few days, several of the rivers have everflowed their banks and occasioned a considerable destruction of property.

The squadron of iron clad French ships of war has again saile from Brest under the command of Admiral Penaud, to resume the experiments commanded by the Minister of Marine. Certain commissioners have been appointed to watch the experiments and report upon the comparative merits of the line and iron-clad vessels.

The Mexican deputation was received by the Emperor of the French yesterday.

The Emperor of the French has given the Grand Cordon of the Legion d'Honneur to the King of the Greeks. The King of the Greeks has left Paris for Toulon, and will embark on Saturday for Greece.

At the request of the Emperor, the Minister of War of France has prepared a statement showing the effective strength to which the French army might be raised on the war footing by the 15th of March next. The summary is as follows:—Regulation contingent, 397,000 men; volunteers and enlisted at a premium, 1 4,5 0; officers, 21,800—total, 552,70 . The calling out of the contingent of 1863 might also be hastened, which would supply 125 000 men, thus increasing the effective force to 699,100 men and officers. Before taking any such measures, however, a credit of 300 000,000 francs, or £12,000,000, would be required; this fact, coupled with the present state of the French finances, is looked upon by many as the best guarantee of peace, but the application by the Emperor for such a return has occasioned no small anxiety, and the War Office considers it a serious symptom.

Cabinet Councils in Paris may almost be said to sit en permanence. The frequency with which they are convened, and the mystery which hangs around all their proceedings, have no tendency to tranquilise the public mind or to remove any forebodings as to the future. It is understood that the Cabinet is in harmony, and that the Emperor approves of the manner in which M. Drouyn de Lhuys has conducted foreign affairs. Peace councils also are said to prevail, yet in the French money market the same want of confidence is experienced, and at the Bourse almost a panic is felt amongst money dealers.

Further particulars have been received of the accident to M, Nadar's balloon. The parties injured are progressing so favourably that their speedy recovery may be expected.

The Spanish Government is much disappointed at the result of the elections. The immense number who abstained from voting reveals not only the numerical force of the Progresista party, but also the admirable discipline to which its leaders have reduced it. The modifications in the Ministry are not likely to render it more permanent, and it now appears pretty certain that Miraflores will eventually be supplanted and O'Donnell return to power.

Four persons have been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the murder of the advocate Gorresio, who was found assasinated a day or two ago in his office at Turin, from which every article of value had been abstracted. The suspected individuals are natives of the Southern provinces.

LOCAL EVENTS.

THE BUISLAY FAMILY—These distinguished acrobats, whom we were all expecting, and who we were told were infinitely superior to the Lees Brothers, have left for Europe, owing, it is said, to the impossibility of finding any place in Buenos Ayres large enough for their performances. They asked President Mitre for a loan of the Cabildo or Custom-house, and on being refused, decamped for Europe.

M. RENAN'S WORK—This scandalous book, we regret to say, is being translated into Spanish by M. Bilbao. We are happy to remark that the clergymen of the city condemn it. It is written for two objects: first, to make money; and, secondly, to disturb all revealed religion. M Renan is the Tom Payne of the hour. We regret to see a man, like M. Bilbao, prostrating his talents in translating such a work. In the Church of San Miguel, on Sunday evening, the preacher cautioned the faithful against reading this anti-Christian book. We trust, they will follow his advice.

THE VIGILANTE—It is rumoured that the Oriental war steamer Vigilante has gone aground at the Corralito, and is a total loss.

SUDDEN DEATH—We regret to say that on Sunday last, during the elections, and in the heat of the contest, the contending politicians at St. Nicolas received an awful shock, by the instantaneous death of one of the voters. A man, named Manuel Correa, dropped dead at the voting table. Deceased appeared in the very rudest health. He died of apoplexy.

URQUIZA—General Urquiza, we hear, has subscribed 360 ounces towards the construction of the new steamer, which is to run from Gualeguaychu.

SOCORRO PARISH.—In this parish we hear that the principal men who attended at the elections were the vasureros, changadores, and orange sellers. As a matter of course there could be nothing done, the respectable voters being frightened away by such an unruly and unwashed multitude.

FIRE—On Saturday night a most alarming fire occurred in Barracas: the flames were first discovered shooting out from a rancho. It appears that it was caused by a drunken fellow who resided in the rancho. As a matter of course there being no water to throw on it, the fire spread until the adjoining houses were also consumed. The loss however, was trifling, and no lives were lost.

THE BOLSA.—This celebrated place was lighted up, and crowds going in and out at a very late hour on Monday evening—it being the last day of the month we suppose that there was a great deal to be done.

CABILDO—CLOCK.—At twelve o'clock this day (Wednesday) this clock will be set right it having lost two minutes and a half within the last forty-seven days.—F. FREDERICK BEBB, Public Regulator.

BRITISH CLERKS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.—A committee meeting of this society was held on last Monday evening. We are happy to say that nothing can be more flourishing than the condition of this useful club: its members and funds are daily increasing.

ON 'CHANGE.

December 1.

Patacones went as high as 27.80, which is almost 445 m/c per ounce, but the change in the interest rate by the Casa de Moneda, has thrown money on the market. The Casa de Moneda has reduced its rate of interest to 8 per cent. per annum, which it charges, and 5 per cent. which it allows.

Nevertheless, paper money is in great demand, and commands 1 to 1¼ per cent. Gold is very abundant, but people have no confidence in our statu quo. Every one on the Bolsa unites with the 'Standard' on the extra duty question, and shouts with us

BURN THE CURRENCY.

In the liquidation, things looked a little quieter, and the last sale of patacones was made at 7 65.

The rumoured defeat of Medina was not believed on the Bolsa.

No more Scab in Sheep.

Patented by Government

General Store in Buenos Ayres at

265 CALLE BUEN ORDEN.

Store at Villa Mercedes, of Messrs Kantz and Schwengel.

Store at Tuyú Establishment of D Carlos Geyer.

The shearing time being at hand, the Inventor of the Anti-Scab Specific for curing Cutaneous Diseases in Sheep, and all domestic Animals, begs to inform the Estancieros that it can never be applied to such effect as after shearing, when it not only cures the worst cases, but acts as a preservative against the disease.

The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or affected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions.

The Specific has been already found an effectual remedy for Insects (Garrapatas).

Numerous certificates may be seen, showing the high repute of the Specific throughout S. America. Its low price places it within the reach of all, 25lb. sufficing for 800 or 1000 Sheep. It contains no poisonous quality, and is sold at the above Depots.

Great and Useful Invention.

No more Mortality for want of Water.

Sure wealth to Estancieros

By the Robert Apparatus.

Being notorious the immense injury occasioned by the scarcity of water during the long secas that afflicts the camps of Buenos Ayres, I have determined to dedicate to the Estancieros an Apparatus at once simple and infalible for procuring as much water as they may require.

120 Bordalesas per hour (it seems fabulous) is procured with my apparatus, without fear of at any time its getting out of order.

This machine is worked by one horse and in one day's work can give 1440 Bordalesas; that is to say, sufficient water for 80,000 head of cattle.

By these figures can be calculated the immense advantages gained by its use.

Another advantage is the facility of putting it together and taking it to pieces, so as to be able to transport it to any place where it may be necessary to use it, either for watering purposes or others.

GREAT MODIFICATION.

I have made an improvement in my Apparatus, applying a new system which reduces the necessary force two thirds, giving it at the same time more rapidity.

Those interested can see it at Calle Moreno, No. 316 (Heuerrado, Paris).

One sole inspection of the Apparatus will prove to them the superiority of it over any other.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS

Dor.—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English school where a sound commercial education is combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

An ever-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the moral and physical welfare of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most beautiful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

MOST IMPORTANT

DISCOVERY OF THE DAY

The Sheep-farmers and the Public in general.

F. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Thatcher's Sheep Salve

The great reputation these specifics have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary success in all cases where they have been applied, has induced the proprietor to introduce them in this market on account of the immense sheep-farming interest of the country. To enable sheep-farmers to combat the maladies which for some years past have, not only caused deterioration of the sheep, but also and frequently the loss of the animal itself. It is a powerful antiseptic, and is only one antidote, being seen out of the treated. The following is a list of some of the uses to which these antiseptics may be applied: In sheep—to cure maggots, footrot, scab, tick; in Horses Cattle, to the feet, grease, ulcers, unhealthy wounds or ulcers, cracked heels, mange & Cows, distemper, and all diseases of the hoofs.

For wounds or bruises resulting from accident and all general Veterinary purposes, they form a sure remedy. Phenyline is found remarkably successful in the Hospitals, in England, for curing Cancer. The same is also used for preserving hides, skins and for wool of vermin and insects. The parcels cleansed with it in this city and dust also have proved to the approval of purchasers in England, who report them to be perfectly sound and sweet. The leather made from the hides is also declared to be superior in every respect.

The want has long been felt of an establishment wherein the frugal and laborious citizen might deposit his savings, so as to incur no risk, and to get at the same time a good return

This institution is calculated to answer such a purpose extending the benefits of the establishment to even the humblest classes.

Public attention is, therefore, specially called to the manner of subscriptions, and the investment of funds, according to the rules of the association.

THE PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive subscriptions as follows:

1st On one's own life, in shares of $5 silver each. These subscriptions liquidated any time, at the subscriber's time and option.

2nd Without loss of capital by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and on the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however is returned

3rd With loss of capital and interest by insurer's death. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly

The capital of the Co. shall be invested only in landed property (fincas), and will be the best security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the general affairs of the Co.

For further particulars, apply at the Co's office 87 calle S Martin [altos] between the hours of 11 — 4; prospectuses given on application. o17

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUÁ & Co.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo and Buenos Ayres—that there are very few merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city a safe profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workmen & servants of all classes conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of want, sickness or old age instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

CONDITIONS.

1st.—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p☰] per annum which is liquidated every six months

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

6th. In case the depositor loses his Pass-Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

COLLARD AND COLLARD'S

PIANOFORTES.

It having been intimated to Messrs. Collard and Collard, manufacturers of Piano Fortes in London, that a great number of Counterfeit Piano Fortes purporting to be made by them, have been and continue to be sold in various parts of South America, they find it necessary in justice to their reputation to announce thus publicly that all Piano Fortes of their manufacture are accompanied by a certificate authenticity containing a full description of the instrument consequently all Piano Fortes sold without that certificate "after this date" may be considered as counterfeit and any information may be obtained on the subject by reference either to the makers or to Messrs. Higgs Brothers and Co. No. 61 calle Chacabuco, or to Weston and Co. Recoba Vieja No. 38 Buenos Ayres their Agents, who have on hand a choice assortment of instruments carefully selected and which for economy in price, elegance of design, perfection of touch and tone, solidity of construction with the greatest possible maintaining power of standing in tune cannot be surpassed.
